To The Trustees of the Corcoran
Gallery

Gentlemen:

I am in possession of quite a large number of Paintings, Pieces of Statuary and other works of Art, which (as I am about to remove, can be purchased at a very great sacrifice. The group of Eve and Able by Luccum of Florence, is especially worthy your attention. Its value was estimated by the Artist as high as $25,000. As it will be impossible to find a place for it in my new home, I will let it go for less than $5000.00

Will you kindly let me hear from you at an early date, as we remove in April. The works can be seen at my residence S.E. Cor 39th & Chestnut Streets any day from 8 Am to 10 PM. The morning light is the best

Respectfully,
Wm. Mowhead

Dr Mr MacLeod

Many thanks for the Autograph of Mr. Mills just received.
 If you obtain the 'Stone' I shall be pleased to get it. I am sorry that we missed Mr. Healy's pre-sent, but we knew nothing of their whereabouts until we got your note of the 12th inst, at which time the date for receiv-ing had been passed a whole week and the walls were already filled. Being away home when your note came, I sent you a duplicate Circular marked - 15 showing that you were too late.
 Miss Restini of this city filled out a list of Mr. Healy's works, but did not know when the Cardinal & the other clergy were to come from.

We have a large & fine cathedral where I hope you will soon have an opportunity of seeing

with thanks again

Yours truly

Dear Sir, Will you please send me by mail a photograph of the "Charlotte Corday" size about 12 by 18 in. I suppose if I knew what it cost I would send the money now.
But hope you will send it, well wrapped up. We want it for drawing in our school here, "Central Institute". If you have any other good photos of the other pictures, please let me know, & their price, and I will buy some.

Yours truly,

John E. Pritchett.

EVE AND ABEL.

This group was modelled in Florence by Mr. Jackson, in 1863 and '64, and finished in marble in June, 1867. The idea which the artist has endeavored to convey, is, the finding of the dead Abel by Eve. Death has but just ensued; the limbs have not become rigid. Eve bends over the prostrate form: lifts it upon her knee; looks into the unanswering face with perplexity and terror. This unusual state which simulates sleep, and yet is not sleep—what can it be? She reasons with what power she may, over this mystery. Then the mother's instincts whisper—Death! A new penalty for the old transgression. Wonder gives way to grief, and the first Mother learns the bitter lesson of renunciation in anguish and tears.

THE WEPT OF THE WISH-TON-WISH.

In the latter part of the seventeenth century, during the wars of King Philip, when frequent inroads were made upon the settlements, a young child, the only

Dear Sir:

Your favor 22 inst. is before me. I have the "landscape by Hogner, representing a flock of sheep with an old shepherd & little girl," for which I refused $500. last year, but am willing to offer it to the Corcoran Gallery, for $400. I hope the Trustees will designate one or more persons to examine our works of art. I am sure it would result to the benefit of the Institution under their care.

I have disposed of our home 39th & Chest. street; provision to be given 1st May next. Hence it is desirable that you confer with me before that date. I have a group "Eve & Abel" valued at $2500 which I will sell for the ^{same} Gallery, for $500. — It is too large for a private house.

I will be pleased to hear from you.

Very truly
